

Peace in the Age of Forever Wars

Temple University
Gladfelter, 10th Floor (Global Studies Lounge)

Schedule

Friday, April 3

- 10–10:20a Refreshments
10:20–10:30 Opening Remarks
- 10:30–10:55 Mary Dudziak, “War and Peace in Time and Space – or – Peace as a Form of Privilege”
10:55–11:20 Q&A
- 11:20–11:35 Break
- 11:35–12:20 Panel I: Gender, War, and Peace
Christin Hansen, “Damned to Fail: Peace Agreements Without the Involvement of Women: The WILPF and Its Criticisms of the 1919 Peace Negotiations”
Jen Kling, “A Feminist Approach to Modern Imperialism and Peace”
Adam Stone, “Contested Public Diplomacy: Women Peace Activists’ Conceptions of a World Beyond the Cold War in the 1980s”
12:20–1p Q&A
- 1–2 Lunch
- 2–2:45 Panel II: Peace, Justice, and Human Rights
Christian DeVos, “Beyond the Forever War: State Capture, Violent Peace, and Cooperative Accountability Structures”
Ryan Liss, “Human Rights: Between Peace and Dignity”
Sari Kisilevsky, “Peace is the Way”: Non-Violence and the Right of Self-Defense
2:45–3:25 Q&A
- 3:25–3:45 Break
- 3:45–4:30 Panel III: Approaches to War and Peace
Dario Fazzi, “‘War is Not Healthy for Children and Other Living Things’: The Socio-Ecological Impacts of America’s Forever Wars”
Elad Uzan, “Ending War Through Compromise”
Jessica Wolfendale, “Collateral Voices: Civilian Perspectives and the Ethics of War”
4:30–5:10 Q&A

Saturday, April 4

- 9–9:15a Refreshments
- 9:15–9:40 Graham Parsons, “From Forever Wars to Wars Forever: Explaining America’s Undying Faith in War”
- 9:40–10:05 Q&A
- 10:05–10:15 Break
- 10:15–11 Panel IV: Pacifism and Peace
David Chan, “Is Asymmetric Peace Possible?”
Mikkel Dack, “Manufacturing Peace: Innovation and Interconnectivity in Post-WWII Democratic Reconstruction”
Margot Minardi, “Nineteenth-Century American Peace Reform and the Problem of ‘Utopian’ Peace”
- 11–11:40 Q&A
- 11:40–12:10 Lunch
- 12:10–12:35 Samuel Moyn, “Gaza, the Humanization of War, and the Politics of International Law”
- 12:35–1 Q&A
- 1–1:15 Break
- 1:15–2:45 Roundtable with Samuel Moyn, Mary Dudziak, and Graham Parsons